Sorry for uploading late!I'm a beginner,so many things are confused to me at first.The first question I have been stuck is to know what's the function of each file.But the most difficult part to me is the states management.There are too many states,and when it comes to parent states and child states,i have no idea how to 'target' it completely correct.

So I try to write the states clearly and use the #DM.SOMETHING.SOMETHING to handle this problem.
